

The Gotransverse Connector for Workday

Designed for companies undergoing evolving revenue streams, digital transformations, third party settlements, and more, the combination of Gotransverse and Workday delivers high-volume billing, flexible pricing, and richer business analytics at scale for enterprise customers.

Revenue Growth Focus

Generate new revenue streams from products and services with multi-dimensional monetization

Agile Time to Value

Deliver rapid value and agility as business models evolve with a native cloud solution

Better Business Analytics

Make more informed business decisions with subscription-based billing data

Add subscription and consumption-based accounts receivables data

Launch business models that include any combination of one-time, subscription, or consumption-based pricing with native mediation and rating. At the heart of the Gotransverse platform, the rating engine is engineered for multi-dimensional, any unit-of-measure usage coupled with prepaid, one-time and subscription charges. With the Gotransverse Connector for Workday, summary Accounts Receivables data gets sent to Workday.

Transfer accounts receivables data to the Workday general ledger

The tight integration between Gotransverse and Workday enables high volumes of data to roll-up into the Workday general ledger. It aggregates event data like products, services, prices and rates, and revenue recognition rules into easily digestible transactions grouped by product, account, as well as an array of other fields.

Advanced mapping flexibility to Workday Reference IDs

Take advantage of Worktags on your general ledger data with the Gotransverse Workday Scheduler that ensures that the identified billing information is mapped appropriately. Map your data as a pass through with attribute level mapping, as a transform with value level mapping, or hybrid pass through, which is a combination of the two.
